

IN AWE

©2006 by Jon Murphy

*There are those who believe
But have greatly been deceived
That once you've found the Lord
There's no need to seek Him more*

*But asking Jesus in your heart
Although it is a perfect start
Is just the beginning
As you learn to abide
And walk close with Him
On your journey to be sanctified*

Chorus

*For whoever keeps His word
Truly the love of God is in him
So, I rise before the dawning of the morn
I cry for help, my hope is in You
My heart stands in awe of Your word
For Your word is truth and is so pure
I hide it in my heart so I am sure
That the steps I take are led by You
I want to please You, Lord, in all I do*

*How can a man stay pure
By living according to Your word
With my whole heart I seek You
For he who hears and heeds Your word
Is the one who truly loves You, Lord
And he will be loved by the Father above
And Jesus will guide you
He will give you life brand new*

*Oh, the green grass withers
And the flower quickly fades away
But the word of the Lord endures forever
As we learn to trust and obey
Oh, my soul melts from the burdens
This life can place on me
Strengthen me with Your Holy Spirit
For You are the very life I need*

(Chorus)

Some thoughts from Jon...

A quote from A.W. Tozer inspired this song. He said, "We have been snared in the coils of a spurious logic which insists that once you've found Him, you need no longer seek Him." The moment of salvation was the blessed beginning of my walk with the Lord. 1 Thess. 4:3 says His will for me is my sanctification being set apart from sin to holiness. Through obedience and a lifelong pursuit of Him, I must develop an awe for His word. (Psalm 119:161) This is the only way I will truly know Him as Abba Father (Psalm 119:147).
